

Network Hong Kong (PDNHK) is a membership-based networking initiative aimed at promoting greater connectivity among corporations, institutions, and organisations committed to advancing disability inclusion.

>>> ABOUT THE EVENT

Words shape perceptions, so we must discuss how disability language is evolving—moving beyond stigmatising labels towards empowering frames that recognise humanity's diverse forms of ability and variation, Join us to explore recent terminology shifts acknowledging non-apparent versus invisible disabilities, advocating disability pride over difference, and ensuring policies address people with disabilities' agency in selecting language.

Hear from professionals driving semantic change to people with disabilities' benefit, impacting efforts for justice, rights and inclusion. It's time mainstream conceptions catch up to reality; through open dialogue on reframing semantics, we'll move beyond labels and towards fuller understanding and acceptance of human diversity.
